

The AirSend - Email connection

AirSend and email work together seamlessly, making it easy for you to:

- Continue to work in AirSend while you interact with channel members who don't have AirSend accounts.
- Receive notifications about your channels' actions when you're not logged in to AirSend.
- Forward email messages to an AirSend channel to keep the email content at hand or to create a task from it.

From email, you can send a message to the channel's email address:

The message appears in the AirSend channel:

Wednesday, August 12

Jessica M - 11:22 AM

Seen by everyone

Here is the deed to the house

1 file uploaded

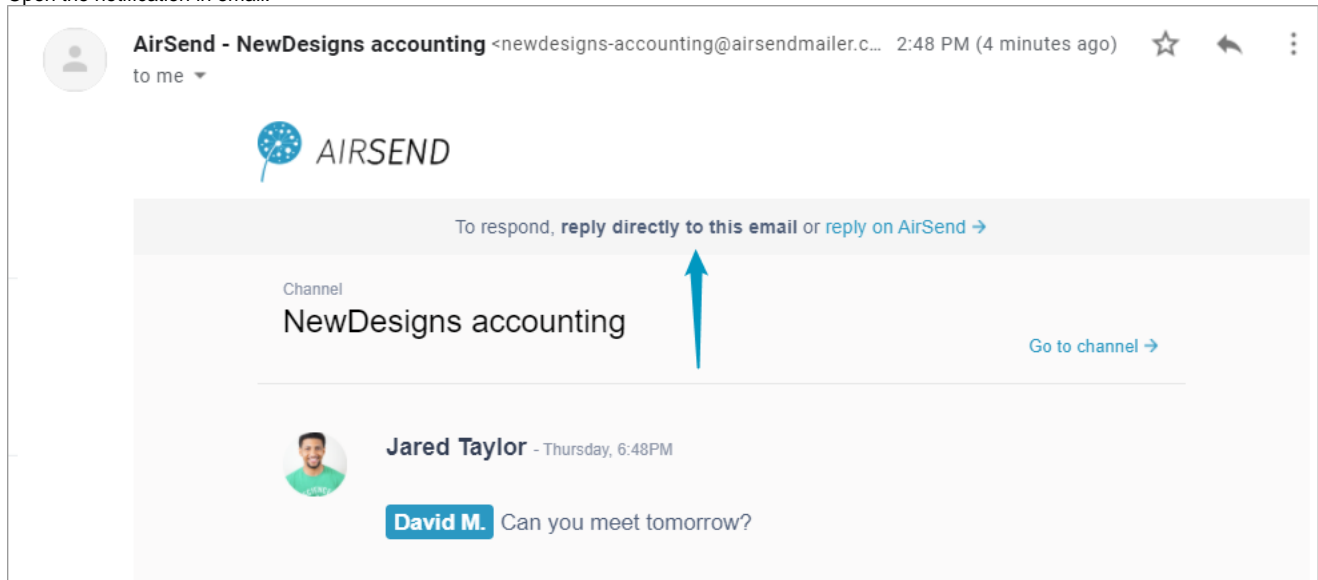

House Deed.pdf

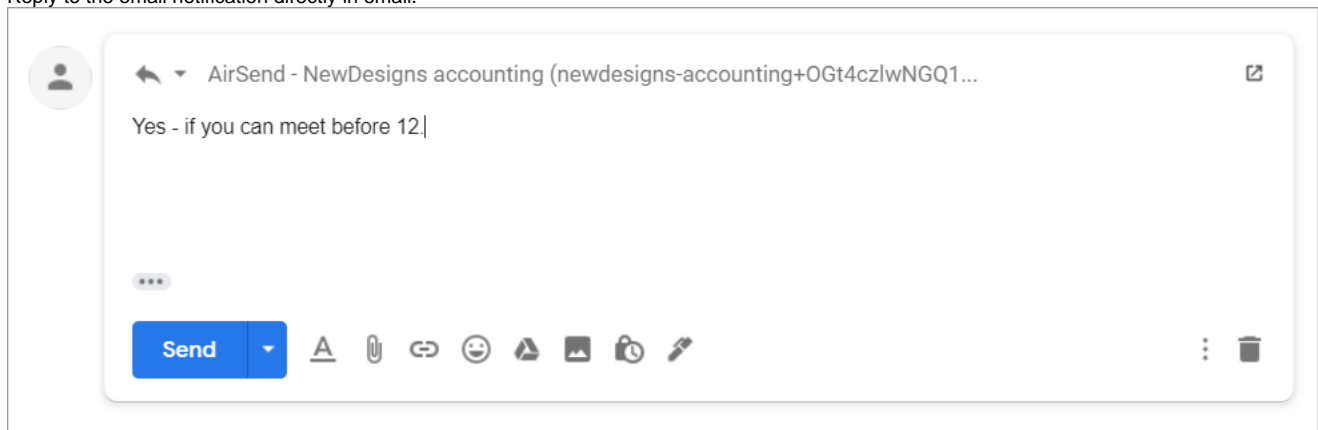

325 KB

From email notifications of messages, you can send a reply that appears in the channel:

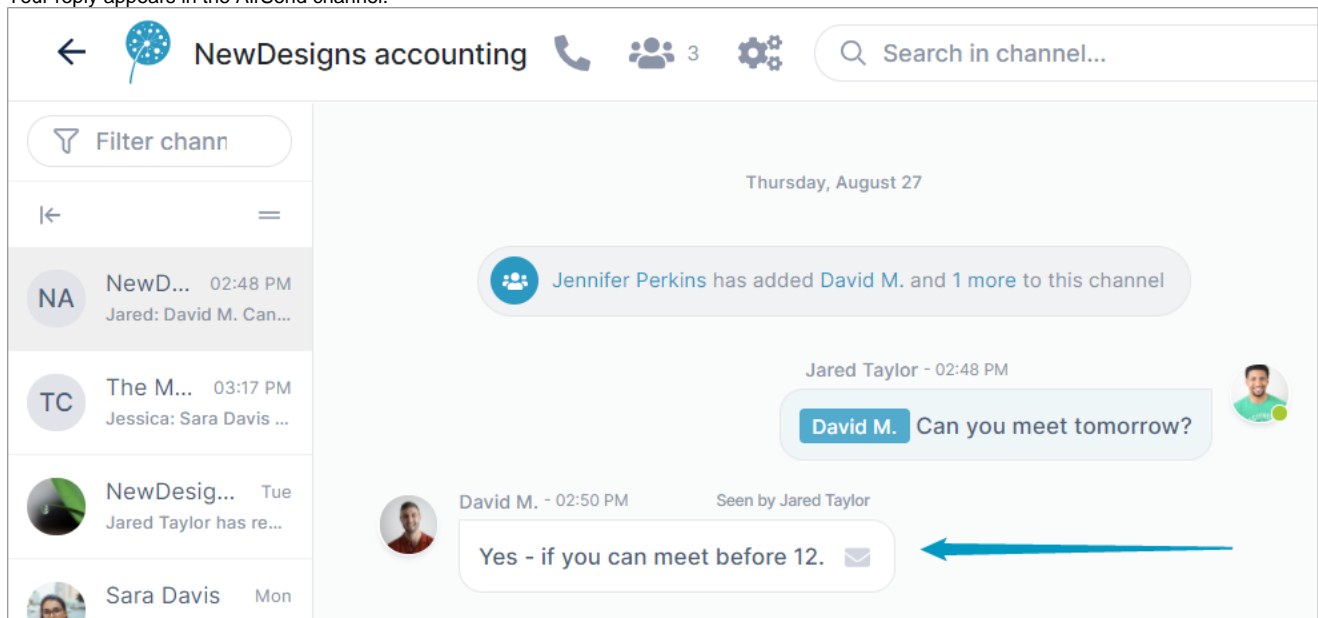

1. Open the notification in email.

2. Reply to the email notification directly in email.

3. Your reply appears in the AirSend channel.

From the channel, you can send a message to a member's email inbox.

1. Enter @ in the message and choose the member.

2. Complete the message and send it.

In addition to appearing in the channel, the message appears in an email sent to the @ user.

By default, you receive notifications about all AirSend channel actions by email, but you can change notification settings to just receive notifications related to you or to turn off notifications entirely.

Next: Notifications in AirSend

Also see:

If you've been added to a channel

Changing notification settings

Setting up an AirSend account